Machine Overview

In mid-2008, HP introduced the LaserJet CM6030/6040-series printer/MFP geared towards larger workgroups as an attractive alternative to higher priced color MFPs. These machines offered solid performance and reliability while being priced significantly less than other comparably equipped color MFPs offered by other OEMs. On a cost per page basis, the CM6030/6040-series also provided lower than average cost per page when compared to competitive printer-based equipment.
